Chad was definitely my favorite teaching assistant for this quarter. His lectures are clear and concise and he made sure that he had time outside of discussion to assist us. The only weakness is his messy handwriting— but he already knows. :)

This TA is very nice and very enthusiastic about teaching the material. He is very approachable and makes you feel comfortable. He is very knowledgeable about the material. Over all he's a really good TA. He could write nicer but this isn't big problem. He could also try to be a little more organized when it comes to explaining difficult concepts, but overall he is really good.

I felt that going over the examples in class was really helpful. I think being able to ask questions was helpful for me personally. I think that it'd be good to go over more difficult concepts, such as the harder problems in problem sets. However, I think that the problems were still really helpful.

chad is the absolute best T/A I've ever had for an Econ class. He's extremely approachable and is great at explaining concepts covered in class.

His strengths are his personality and vast knowledge of all things related to Econ.

He's always willing to stay after class to help and holds extra office hours and review sessions before exams.

He doesn't have any weaknesses
